FOR WHAT IT'S WORTH

Got this out of the 05/09 Model Airplane News mag. Easy way to remove the unwanted alcohol from todays gasoline.

In Brazil the alcohol content is 20% to there gas, to remove the alcohol they simply put the gas into a clear container, add water to the gas and wait.

Since the alcohol is hygroscopic and its molecules attach to water molecules. By adding water to the gas, separates the unwanted alcohol from the gasoline.

The water will rise to the top of the container and if you empty the container from the bottom you will get 100% pure gasoline.

From the Prez

Hello,

Elections are here, as I was reading over our bylaws, I see there is no proxy vote, you must be present at the meeting to have your vote count so please come next month and show your support for our officers.

New Years Day Chili Fly, if we can get down the driveway to the field, we will gather there, if the snow is too deep to get down the drive we will have to make other arrangements. The airport or Dave Becker's home are options.

Gather your winter project and bring it in for show and tell and show off your progress. Its building season so get the bug and get to the shop.

Mark Johnson

P.S. if anyone is going to do any indoor flying this winter, give me a call I would like to join you

Jokes for the Month

This is a true story, proving how fascinating the mind of a six year old is.

A teacher was reading the story of the Three Little Pigs to her class.

She came to the part of the story where first pig was trying to gather the building materials for his home. She read 'and so the pig went up to the man with the wheelbarrow full of straw and said: 'Pardon me sir, but may I have some of that straw to build my house?'

The teacher paused then asked the class:

"And what do you think the man said?"

One little boy raised his hand and said very matter-of-factly ..."I think the man would have said,

'Well, I'll be damned!! A talking pig!'. "

The teacher had to leave the room.

I believe that everything happens for a reason. Usually the reason is that someone screwed up.
